OVERVIEW: The majority of the preserve was a gift from Charles & Constance Schmid to The Town of Edgecomb in 1979. The preserve encompasses 766± acres, including the recently acquired Haselton parcel. The preserve is currently managed by an advisory board which holds public meetings monthly. Improvements to the preserve are made primarily through the efforts of volunteers from Edgecomb, as well as surrounding towns. Donations to the preserve are both welcome and necessary to insure its self-reliance. For contact information please call the town office at 207-882-7018.

GUIDELINES: To insure the long term health of the preserve, the following guidelines have been adopted:
